A FORMER RESIDENT.

Funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Cann at Wellington, Kansas.

T. W. Cann has returned from Wellington, Kansas, where on Tuesday, June 26th, he attended the funeral of his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Cann, who died June 24, aged 88 years. The deceased was a former resident of Decatur. She came here with several of her children in 1836, and continued to reside here until 1860, when she went to Kansas with her son Robert. Elizabeth Haas was born in Hampshire county, Va., January 21, 1806, and on June 28, 1828, she became the wife of Philip Cann, the couple in 1830 moving to Indiana. There were nine children—five born in Virginia, four in Indiana; four children are dead. Those living are Mrs. Margaret Holmes, Mt. Hope, Kan.; John W. and C. C. Cann, Lafayette, Ind.; Robert F. Cann, Wellington, Kan., and T. W. Cann, Decatur. There are 19 grandchildren and 9 great-grandchildren. In 1847 the husband and father died, leaving the mother with eight children to support. Those were trying years for the noble Christian woman who performed her duty as best she could in her Indiana home. She bore the hardships and trials with Christian fortitude and reared all her children in the fear and love of God. Fifty years ago Mrs. Cann united with the United Brethren church, and five years later became a member of the Methodist church, and all of her children followed except C. C. Cann who still remains a Methodist. Mrs. Cann was a very devout Christian and it was a delight for her to talk of God and heaven. She lived for her family, her friends and her God.

DIED.

On Friday, June 29, at the family residence on West Washington street, Elmer Edgar, twin son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry, aged five weeks. The other son died about two weeks ago. June 29, the 11 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. David F. Smith.

MARRIED.

At Pasa, Ill., June 29, Harry Holliday of Decatur, and Miss Margaret Mayfield.

DUN'S TRADE REVIEW

The Great Coal Miners' Strike Having Been Passed.

A YET MORE SERIOUS INTERRUPTION

Threatens the Business Interests of the Country in the Railroad Tie-Up, Growing Out of the Pullman Boycott—The Outlook.

NEW YORK, June 30.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade, issued to-day, says:

The great strike of coal miners has ended at most points, but another threatens to interrupt business more seriously for a time, though small. Travel and traffic are well nigh arrested on about twenty roads already, and strikes are threatened on all roads which use Pullman cars. As the public and the railroads know the cars have no power to say what wages shall be paid to the Pullman shops, and the receipts of that company from the railroads does not depend upon the lowest rates, it is difficult to calculate how long such a strike may last or how far it may extend during the week.

On the whole other changes during the week have been for the better. Many manufacturing establishments which were stopped by want of fuel have resumed, and less than usual for more than a month. The depletion of the voluntary deposits of gold by New York banks. Exports of gold have almost ceased. Congress has made much progress toward final disposition of the tariff question. Crop prospects grow better as the harvest draws nearer.

The resumption of work in mines and mills has made good progress, but the demand for products is as yet smaller, and less than usual was expected. Heavy steel products, which manufacturers are slow to give in view of the increased cost of materials and production. After a suspension of half the working force for more than a month, it was expected that orders for products would be very large, but instead there is a general complaint of dullness and narrow demand, and prices are evidently increased, several establishments have stopped for want of orders, or because no settlement regarding wages for the coming year has yet been reached. In the minor metals the tendency is toward weakness, but without much change in prices.

Shipments of boots and shoes from Boston were smaller for the week than last year, but for four weeks of June were $43,022 cases against $23,162 last year. The demand for cheaper goods continues fairly large, and in some grades is larger than a year ago, but in high-priced goods the business is still remarkably narrow. Textile manufactures are much embarrassed by the near approach of a probable change in the tariff, the probable effect of which cannot yet be ascertained. In spite of this reason for hesitating orders and purchases, the number of mills quitting work in not yet as large as was expected; for there appears a little more demand from clothiers and jobbers. The cleaning-up process has been accelerated with success, with concessions in some cotton goods, but fall orders are still limited, and the accumulation of goods continues.

Somewhat better orders in woollens, particularly in low-priced all-wool goods, are being placed, and worsted clover, though not large in amount, give hope of larger trade. But the mills are buying cautiously, and sales of wool fell below last year's, 2,788,700 pounds for the week, against 3,143,000. In four weeks of June, 1913, 11,967,234 pounds, and this year 11,667,234 pounds. Growers and other holders of wool seem disposed to demand higher prices than can now be paid, but receipts from the interior are liberal, and exceed the present demand.

Speculation has tended towards lower prices in products and in stocks. Wheat has declined 2 cents, the closing with insignificant export, for four weeks of June only 2,920,230 bushels from Atlantic ports, against 3,017,454 last year, while western receipts have been 5,820,880 for the same week, against 5,810,942 last year, a much smaller decrease. Corn has declined seven-eighths cent, receipts being larger than of wheat, and a heavy crop is expected. Pork products are also a shade lower. Cotton has yielded one-eighth cent, speculation, the enormous stocks in sight grow tiresome.

In the stock market some advance resulted early in the week from the president's declaration of the purpose of the government and the strengthening of the treasury reserve, but prices again declined as the railway strike extended, and railroad stocks average twenty cents per share lower than a week ago. The close in June prior to the strike had shown a decrease of 22 per cent, compared with last year, and the decline in east-bound lake or rail tonnage from Chicago is 38 per cent.

The volume of domestic business as shown by clearinghouse payments is 27 per cent smaller for the week than last year, and New York the decrease is 36.1 per cent.

There is some improvement in the demand for commercial loans, especially from the south, and sale of foreign exchange against the dollar is not so depressed as heretofore, but much increased. This, with foreign buying of stocks after the action of the New York banks, have weakened exchange so that gold exports against $12,515,700 in May, $15,116,982 in April and $20,228,360 in the third year. At the end, the liabilities were about $40,000,000 at the west $25,000,000 and at the south $25,000,000. The classified returns show about $41,000,000 of manufacturing and $22,000,000 of trading liabilities. In Canada the failures, part of June, were $1,000,000, about $1,200,000 being of trading concerns. The number of failures this week has been 241 in the United States against 207 last year, and 31 in Canada against 27 last year. On the whole the number and importance of failures have increased a little as is usual near the close of a half year.

THE ZEIGENHEIN INQUIRY.

Meeting of the Committee Appointed to Examine the St. Louis Collector's Books.

St. Louis, June 30.—The committee of investigation appointed by Mayor Wilbridge to examine the books and work of the collector Zeigenhein's office met at the mayor's office at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and at once proceeded to map out a course of investigation. An impressive "hand" go abroad that the power of the committee, or "commission," as it is generally called, would be limited. Quite a number of city hall men thought the question of the guilt or innocence of the collector and his deputy in connection with the indictment found by the grand jury would be the only question gone into, while a still larger number assumed that the books generally would be overhauled, and that the report on the audit would entitle the commission to discharge from further service. Both of these forecasts proved to be entirely wrong, and hence the optimism based upon them fall to the ground. The specific charge of embezzlement was not mentioned by the mayor in what may be termed his "charge" to the commission, and it was expressly stated that the gentlemen nominated by the mayor were expected to leave no stone unturned in their inquiries, the entire machinery of the city government being placed at their disposal. When this became generally known in the city hall the opinion was freely expressed that the commission would find the bulk of its work outside the books, which members of both political parties, and foes as well as friends of the collector, believe are not in bad shape.

The Auditor-Platte Franks Investigation. WASHINGTON, June 30.—Superintendent Corey of the Carnegie company, yesterday continued his testimony regarding the alleged armor frauds before the special committee investigating the subject.

Chairman Cummings, in opening asked how often he had seen the government inspectors at the mill. Mr. Corey replied that they were there every day, Sundays excepted. They were seldom, if ever, there at night. One of the inspectors was always about the works during these hours. They had an office about fifty yards from the machine shop. The government stamp was kept in the desk of the inspectors. As a rule one of the inspectors could be found at the office when wanted. He knew Inspector Gill, but never heard of a testimonial being presented to him by the company or its employee. Since he had entered the employ of the company his salary had been increased $2,500 per year.

Nurse, what's the reason that so few diseases are treated intelligently?

"Because few doctors investigate and discover true remedies themselves! Most of them merely experiment with theories and discoveries which they don't understand. This Dr. Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer that I am giving you is a discovery not down in the books. It is the true remedy for your Nervous Prostration or any and all nervous troubles, such as Sleeplessness, Debility, and so on. It is a remedy applied intelligently by the discoverers themselves."

PRICE, $1.00 A BOTTLE. Inquire of druggists for free sample. If not found, write us enclosing five cents (stamp) for postage. The doctor gives free advice to any nerve sufferer. All welcome.

We offer $1000 to any person who can show a remedy for nervous prostration, or any other nervous trouble, that will cure more cases than Dr. Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer. The J. W. Brant Co. ALBANY, NICH.

The Democrats of Pennsylvania have adopted the longest platform of any adopted by any Democratic convention held this year. It will be long on platform and mighty short on votes.

The fact that for the first time in the history of the country the Democrats have denounced a secret political society in their platform, argues that they have probably found one that the Democratic party can't use for election purposes.

One of the Democratic delegates to the Democratic state convention, at a caucus of the Chicago delegation had in relation to the delegation voting as a unit for Franklin MacVeagh, opposed that proposition on the ground that MacVeagh was a long-year Democrat.

FRANKLIN MACVEAGH proposes to become a public benefactor by telling the people of Illinois why they should all be Democrats. This reminds us that we once heard of a man who proposed to become a public benefactor when he had invented a machine he believed would fly in the air.

When a party gets down to endorsing such a governor as Altveld has proven himself to be, it is time that men who have any regard for common decency and good government were looking for a party home where the flag of anarchy and corruption does not float from the front gate.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean come out squarely in favor of naming a senatorial candidate by the coming Republican state convention, and favors the naming of Senator Cullom. Of Hon. W. E.
Mason, of Chicago, who is also a candidate, it says:

Mr. Mason is a brainy man and a splendid campaigner, but we think the most of those who know him well will agree with us that nature never intended him for a United States senator. He was born for success on the hustings. If he should ever succeed in securing a seat among the grave and dignified senators he will find himself greatly out of place.

The Democrats and Secret Political Societies.

The Democratic state convention took time to make a thrust at the order known as the American Protective Association in their platform. The plank is as follows:

Hostility to secret political societies is a tenet of the Democratic faith which is fundamental, and standing by this doctrine now, as in the days when their party presented an unbroken front to the crushed that detestable organization, the Democracy of Illinois denounces as cowardly, unpatriotic and dangerous to the peace and happiness of this country the American Protective Association, which seeks to proscribe men on account of their religion or birthplace.

This plank probably contains more falseness to the line than any other one in the platform. The Democratic party, in the first place, is the only party that ever encouraged secret political societies in the history of the government, and worse than all, every secret political society it ever encouraged has been treasonable in its character and inimical to personal liberty, and when the statement is made that "hostility to secret political societies is a tenet of the Democratic faith which is fundamental," it is a falseness, easily proven so by history.

After Washington's second election, Genet, an envoy from the French government to the new Republic, sought to involve this government in a war with Great Britain, in the interest of France, which Washington refused to permit, and, on the contrary, promulgated the doctrine of non-intervention, but Jefferson, the acknowledged first leader of the civilization known now as the Democratic party, favored France and opposed the policy of Washington, and encouraged Genet in his schemes against the government. Encouraged by the attitude of Jefferson, Genet became arrogant and actually threatened to appeal to the people, and "made himself so obnoxious to President Washington that he demanded his recall. The French government sent a successor, but Genet remained in the country, and under the encouragement of Jefferson and his followers, this alien organized secret political societies opposed to Washington and in favor of Jefferson. Washington in his message in 1794 censured all self-constituted political societies formed by Genet. This was the first secret political society formed in this country, and it was formed in the interest of and encouraged through the connivance of the founder of the Democratic party and was one of its first acts.

The Knights of the Golden Circle, the Sons of Liberty and other kindred organizations, during the war, were secret political societies, treasonable and were purely Democratic. The KuKlux Klan, the Red Shirt Brigade, the White Liners and other like organizations, to suppress the colored race and prevent the colored voter from voting, were all purely Democratic political societies, and not once in the history of that party has it adopted a line in any of its platforms against such secret political organizations. Instead of one tenet of that party being hostility to secret political organizations it has bred everyone of these just mentioned.

But the platform says, "the Democratic party presented an unbroken front to know-nothingism and finally crushed it out," which is totally untrue. The facts are, and they are matters of record, that know-nothingism flourished best when there were most Democrats. Thus counties in Ohio, New York and Pennsylvania that were solidly Democratic went know-nothing, and the states of Virginia, Maryland and Kentucky were carried by that secret political society.
No Democratic convention in those days ever deplored in any platform the existence of know-nothingism, and the Democratic party did not crush it out.

The first know-nothing vote cast for president was in 1850. Those votes numbered 874,534, and were cast for Millard Fillmore. At the same election the Republican party cast its first vote for president. These votes were cast for John C. Fremont, and numbered 1,341, 264, to 1,838,169 cast by the Democrats for James Buchanan. In 1860, the Know-nothing party cast 591,900 votes, and the Republicans polled for Lincoln, 1,863,913 votes, while Douglas and Breckinridge, the two Democratic candidates polled 2,223,068 votes, a Democratic gain of 384,309, and a Republican gain of 524, 649, and a Know-nothing loss of 262,634.

According to these figures the Democrats did not crush out Know-nothing-ism, but the war did, as the paramount question then was, whether we had a country or not, and as Douglas said, "the only parties were patriots and traitors."

The A. P. A. plank of the Democratic platform is a piece of the most barefaced presumption and falsehood ever presented to the people of the state of Illinois, and is unworthy any set of men making any pretense to honesty.

By the following simple rule the duration of night and day can be determined at any time of the year, says an exchange. Multiply the time of the sun's rising by two and it will give you the length of the night. Multiply the time of setting by two and you get the length of the day. It is easily demonstrated at the time of the year when the sun rises and sets at 6 o'clock, and day and night are of equal duration. It is just as true as the days lengthen and shorten. Thus as winter approaches, take a day when the sun rises at 6:30 and sets at 5:30. Apply the rule and you have a night of 13 hours and a day of 11 hours. The rule will be found absolutely accurate any season of the year.

A Baby's Life Saved.
New York, June 28.—Having lain dormant in her wire cradle in a baby incubator for four months, the baby heiress of Edward C. Haight was removed yesterday, placed in swaddling clothes and turned over to her trained nurse.
Little Miss Haight was born at 288 Madison avenue on February 24. She arrived three months earlier than was expected, and her mother died in giving her birth. When Miss Haight made her early entry Dr. Carlton, physician in charge, sent for Wm. G. Robinson, the maker and inventor of baby incubators.
Robinson hurriedly brought his apparatus to the Haight mansion, and the fragile and almost inanimate infant was placed therein. She was only taken out twice a day to have her toilet made, and was fed upon medicated milk. As she grew older and stronger she stretched her little limbs, showed her head and shoulders and yawned, wondering no doubt, what all the fuss was about. Dr.
Carlton is pleased, Mr. Haight is joyful and inventor Robinson is proud of the successful issue of the experiment. They call Robinson the "tin mother."

Boating Party.
A party of young people passed last evening pleasantly. With a picnic supper in baskets they went to Riverside, went down the river to Allen's Bluff, landed and going up on the bluff had supper. Then they put in the rest of the evening on the river. Those in the party were: Misses Margaret Roberts, Edith Lytle, Lucy Roberts, Elizabeth Voorhes, Eugenia Harris, Anna Strohm, Kyle Bohon, L. J. Goodson, Dr. Carlton, Dr. Moore, Arthur Duncanson, Henry Crowell.

MORE MEN CALLED.
Another 100 Citizens Drawn to Qualify as Jurymen in the Creekmur Case.
True it is "that many are called out few are chosen." Such is the case in connection with the labor of selecting acceptable jurymen in the John B.
Creekmur murder case, and the end is not yet. To date 400 extra men have been served to appear in court to be subjected to close examinations by the attorneys on both sides, and only eight citizens have thus far been accepted. Last evening the venire for the fourth 100 was issued by the court, so that there would be no lull in the proceedings. Now all of the names placed in the little tin box by the board of supervisors at their special meeting have been taken out, and if it shall be necessary to call another lot the board will have to meet again. The names

The Ackerman Kindergarten.
The closing exercises of Mrs. S. K.
Ackerman's kindergarten school, which has been conducted the past summer with very satisfactory results, were held Friday afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Votaw, on West Wood street. A large number of the parents and friends of the little people were present to witness the demonstration of what had been taught in the school. General praise was bestowed upon the patient and painstaking teacher. There was a full exemplification of the scope and benefit of advanced kindergarten work, the teacher having familiarized herself thoroughly with all desirable points in the work. Love and kindness is the main spring and root of control and training in the work, and it is the delight of the children of the Ackerman school to be obedient and pliable. The exercises included music and recitations, a surprising knowledge of circles, cubes, squares and angles, and when the exhibition closed refreshments were served. Each pupil received a book containing his or her own work done during the term.
Those who took part yesterday were:
Alice Dempsey, Marguerite Votaw, Glady's Chandler, Nellie Pasold, Jessie Patterson, Dorothea Marshall, Mabel Boettger, Nita Brown, Mary Hostetler, Gertrude Damrow, Lilly Pasold, Hazel Boone, Harry McClelland, Robert Tullis, Race Thomas, Earnest Kirkland, Helma Dawson, Carl Moore, Carl Head, Milton Sturm and Ned Wheeler.

THE PRIZE SPELLERS
Award Made by Superintendent
N. Donahoy
The spelling contest among the county teachers last spring resulted in a number of ties, and not being able to get the prize winners together to make the choice, County Superintendent J. N.
Donahoy drew the prizes as they were listed in order of correct spelling. The following disposition was made: K. F.
Devadon, umbrella; Helen Chamberlain, Marva Times; John Hickman, Gordy's Pedagogy; Jesse Smith, Bulletin; Francis Hill, bookmark; J. S. Canup, bell, School News; Daniel F. Maros, News; Agnes Compton, Vest Pocket Library; C. A. Walters, Santa; Bernice Higgins, Review; Anna Fowler, bookmark; J. F. Conner, bookmark; John F. Wickes, Herald Dispatch; John Bauer, Enterprise; W. R. Best, Life of Christ; Agnes Drunkall, Reminiscences; Kate L. Edmunds, Macon County School Journal.

THE HORROR MULTIPLIES.

Mrs. Yount and Her Babe Are Affected.

The sad death of little Mabel Yount, daughter of W. W. Yount, of North eighth street, Springfield, is rendered even sadder by the affliction it is bearing with it. It seems that while the little one was suffering and the horrible agony due to the dog bite and the horrible disease it contracted, her mother was so overcome by rubbing it in for the child. After rubbing it in its poisoned condition, Mrs.
Yount scratched herself in some manner and touched the wound, alight as it was, with her hand.
As a result her right hand is now swollen to the size of an ordinary body and it is feared that the stricken woman will be afflicted with the worst form of the dread disease. More than this Mrs.
Yount has a sucking babe who has become affected and it is expected that neither can recover. Springfield News.

Hick's Supply of July Weather.

Rev. I. Hicks, the St. Louis weather augur, has by no means proved himself a howling success on the weather for 1894, thus far, but the following is what he has to say of the weather July will produce: "July opens with a Venus disturbance well advanced. On and next to the 2d and 3d it will grow very warm, until it ends in storms of lightning, rain and hail, tornadoes not improbable.
The 7th to 11th is a period in which all clouds of any magnitude should be watched. Reasons explained at length in Word and Works for July.
Hail with much thunder and cloud bursts. Sudden change to very cool.
About the 13th and 14th will grow very warm again, resulting in many local bursts of wind, hail and rain. Much lightning and thunder will result from the Venus equinox during all July periods. From 17th to 22d will prove a heated term, which state will continue up to and through the reactionary 25th and 26th, unless abated by storms about the 18th and 19th, or 25th and 26th.
The month will end in the midst of great heat, with a threatening barometer, and possibly active storms moving from the west. Look out for drought in following months."

The Fourth at Riverside

The Riverside Boat company will give the grandest entertainment July 4 they have ever given since the park was opened. The programme will consist of a canoe race, 400 yards and return, first and second prizes; tub race, 40 yards and return, first and second prizes. There will be a duck chase, and the boys who catch the ducks will be allowed to keep them, besides receiving cash prizes. There will also be a sparring contest on a 12 foot platform in the river, an obstacle swimming race, a wrestling match on the platform and the walking of the ground pole. In the evening there will be a good display of fireworks, to wind up with a grand illuminated flotilla of 40 row boats and the steamboat, all decorated with different colored lights. Each boat will be supplied with fireworks to display as they pass down the river. The little steamer, "City of Decatur," will tow them down to Allen's bluff and return. This entertainment is free; all are welcome. Come out and bring your supper and have a good time. The fun commences at 2:30 and 8 p.m. All who wish to enjoy these contests will please give in their names before the Fourth. No entrance fee will be charged.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS

The Tariff Bill Passed in Committee of the Whole.

AND AT LAST REPORTED TO THE SENATE

The Bill and Amendments Ordered Printed—The Joint Resolution Extending the Current Appropriation Passed and Sent to the President.

SENATE.
WASHINGTON, June 29.—The tariff bill, after an incubation period of thirteen weeks in committee of the whole, was today taken out of committee and reported to the senate. The bill and amendments were ordered to be printed and will come up for action of the senate on Monday next at 10:30 a. m. The bill is the important amendments that have been agreed to, and some that are yet to be offered, will have to be acted on, and will be also open to further debate.

When the bill was taken up today the only section that remained to be acted on was the one abrogating the reciprocity commercial arrangements, and that section was, after a long debate, modified so as to read that "nothing herein contained shall be held to abrogate the reciprocity or commercial arrangements except such arrangements as are inconsistent with the provisions of this act."

It was agreed to without a division, and then a motion to lay on the table was rejected.

Yea, 24; nay, 34.

An amendment which was offered by Mr. Peffer to impose a tax of $50 per head on immigrants drawn from several senators' declarations in favor of laws to restrict immigration, and was then laid on the table.

An amendment by Mr. Gallinger that the act shall not be operative as to Canada until that country shall have entered into commercial arrangements that will result in a material reduction of duties on American products and manufactures was also rejected. Yea, 21; nay, 29.

An amendment by Mr. Allison to reduce the whiskey bonded period from eight years to four years was rejected. Yea, 23; nay, 36.

Then some paragraphs that had been reserved were disposed of, as well as a large number of new amendments reported from the finance committee, generally of minor importance, and the bill was finally, to the intense relief of senators on both sides, reported to the senate.

The joint resolution extending the general appropriations for thirty days was passed, signed by the speaker and the vice-president and sent to the president of the United States.

An invitation to the senate to attend a religious service at St. Matthew's church in Washington, next Sunday in memory of the murdered president of France, was received from the secretary of state and accepted, and the vice-president was instructed to make proper arrangements therefor.

The senate at 6 p. m. adjourned till Monday.

Quite unexpectedly today a contested election case was forced upon the attention of the house and Mr. Thomas Watson of Georgia, was declared not to have been elected to the thirty-third congress from the tenth district of that state and Mr. J. C. Black was declared in his title to the seat.

The case was called up by Mr. Pence who stated that he had no objection to the case being decided on the merits, but that he was considering Mr. Watson might be heard for an hour in his own behalf. He then moved that the case be postponed until Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

At first the democrats were inclined to vote against consideration of the case at all today, but, acting under the advice of Speaker Crisp the united with the republicans and voted to proceed with its consideration.

Failing in his effort to secure the desired postponement, Mr. Pence began filibustering, in which he was aided by the republicans generally and the democrats, which had the effect of impelling the committee on rules to bring in an order for an immediate vote upon the resolution of the committee on elections. After all of the parliamentary expedients had been exhausted the order was adopted and the resolution of the committee agreed to as stated.

A senate bill was passed to revise the statutes of Donora's Murphy, a paymaster in the army at the beginning of the war. The claim against Murphy was merely technical, but the passage of the bill was essential to the closing up of the estate of the father of Senator Faulkner of West Virginia, who was on Murphy's bond.

A senate bill was also passed transferring to the state of North Dakota, for the use of the militia, the wooded portion of Fort Totten military reservation in that state.

A joint resolution was also agreed to providing for the printing of 50,000 copies of the report of the secretary of agriculture for the year 1894.

The usual Friday recess was taken until 9 o'clock, the night session being the consideration of private pension and relief bills.

SITUATION IN CHICAGO.

Governors of Two States Called on for Troops to Move Trains.

[Special to the REPUBLICAN.]

CHICAGO, June 30.—The strike situation today was as bad as the A. R. U. can make it, most of the roads into Chicago being virtually tied up, whether they handle Pullman cars or not. They did a little passenger business but practically no freight was moved. The governors of Indiana and Illinois have been called on for troops.

Ten Mail Trains Tied Up.

CAIRO, ILL., June 29.—The aspect of the strike conditions in this city have materially changed since yesterday, but affairs are in a worse condition, if possible, than before. Ten mail trains and one local passenger train are lying idle in the Illinois Central yards, three tons of United States mail are detained at the passenger depot, and through an order issued today by Second Vice-President Hatcher, all the striking employees of that road here and at Mounds Junction, eight miles north, numbering about 400, were discharged at 6 p. m. Thousands of dollars worth of perishable freight is side tracked, with no prospect of removal, and 150 passengers, who had hoped to resume their journey today are now lying at Mounds Junction, held by the strikers, in the midst of a dreary waste of railroad tracks.

Yesterday the attorney for the Illinois Central applied to United States Judge Allen for an order to move the mail trains now being detained in this city. The order was received at noon today and delivered to United States Marshal W. B. Branton. He at once held a conference with a committee of ten members of the American Railway union and gave them until 2 o'clock this afternoon to decide whether or not they would interfere with an attempt to move the trains in question. At 10 o'clock the committee reported that no interference would be made. At 3:20 a crew was obtained, and a train composed of a baggage car, mail car, two coaches and two sleepers was quickly filled with 150 persons. Two obstreperous strikers cut off the sleepers three times, but the leaders coupled them again and stood by their agreement in every particular, but it was 4:10 p. m. before the train started for Chicago.

Less than four blocks had been passed before the mail clerk threw his mail out of the car and jumped to the ground. It was all southern mail. Seeing the attempted deception the strikers immediately stopped the train, and it would not have been allowed to proceed had not the chief of police, upon behalf of a large number of citizens, pleaded with the men to let the train go for the sake of the passengers. It finally pulled out at 4:35 p. m., but it was stopped at Mounds Junction and is still held there at 10 o'clock to-night. Marshal Branton claims that the men violated their agreement with him, but the men claim that the road does not want to move the trains, but is endeavoring to place them in a false light and fill their places with non-union men. This theory is upheld by the fact that ten men have already been imported and are here under the company's protection. Such a move will undoubtedly cause bloodshed.

MADDENED BY THE CALL FOR TROOPS.

Intense excitement was created early this evening when it was learned that the Illinois Central had telegraphed Gov. Altgeld for troops. The governor replied that he could not send troops until some act of violence was reported. The men are maddened at this action on the part of the road, and while they have gone about the tight good-natured all along have now settled down to it in earnest and declare that they will hold every Pullman sleeper at all hazards.

DECATUR ENGINEERS MEET.

A Special Conference in Progress this Afternoon in Commercial Block.

Nearly all of the resident railway locomotive engineers are holding a special meeting this afternoon at Engineers' Hall in Commercial block on East Eldorado street, the exact object of which could not be ascertained. Presumably it has reference to the great strike on the railroads now engaging wide-spread attention. A reporter visited the hall and entered it in search of information. He asked if he might remain to get the result of the conference, but permission was denied him and he retired at once, the door being closed and locked after the reporter's departure.

There is a branch of the American Railway Union in Decatur, but the engineers have an association of their own. All are interested in the great battle now in progress. Their action this evening will probably be made known to-night or to-morrow.

Entered at Maroon.

J. Frank Parker, Jr. Clancy, L. E. Rogers, Frank Pahmeyer, Hal Hammer, with Frank Ford as manager, went to Maroon today, where this afternoon they are entered in the bicycle races. The program includes a two-mile race, a three-mile open, and a two-mile race for riders under 16 years of age.

ALMOST NOT QUITE.

Eleven Jurymen Accepted in the Creekmur Case.

There is now a prospect of the attorneys being able to agree upon a jury in the murder case of The People vs. John B. Creekmur. Eight had been agreed upon last night, and up to noon today three more had stood the test. The eleven acceptable jurors are:

J. H. Myers, Long Creek.
Hugh Thompson, Macon.
J. H. Masterson, Decatur.
W. H. Holly, Harrisburg.
Ira Warnick, Jr., Boody.
C. L. Montgomery, Elwin.
L. Stonebraker, Maros.
John Carroll, Jr., Macon.
W. H. Reed, Decatur.
William Cotes, Macon.
E. E. Stover, Pleasant View.

It is believed that the twelfth man will be found before the adjournment of court this evening, and Monday the attorneys will make the opening statements.

THE TWELFTH MAN.

At three o'clock this afternoon the twelfth jurymen was secured. He is Barton Diehl, of Blue Mound. Court then adjourned until Monday next at 8:30 a. m.

POSTAL CARD FAILURE.

Return and Duds Styles Do Not Appear to be Popular.

The "return" postal card—that is, the double one with the prepaid attachment for the answer—is a failure, as the post-office authorities predicted it would be, and although only 12,000,000 of them were printed, several years ago, the demand has been so small that the greater part still remains on hand, and 12,000,000 is a small edition. The total number of postal cards used last year was 530,505,000, and 13,339,000 of those were the foreign or international cards bearing a 2-cent stamp.

There was a great pressure for the double card from certain agitators who thought business interests demanded it, but it is a flat failure. The officials at the postoffice department think the reason is that the return card gets very much soiled during its first experience in the mails, and people prefer to pay 1 cent for a new and clean one.

The "dude card" is also a failure. That was the invention of Postmaster General Wanamaker, and one would suppose that a man with his experience in catering to the public taste ought to know what is wanted, but he missed it that time. The "dude card" is the familiar name which the authorities have given to the little postal card which is made of fine paper and printed with blue ink.

It was made especially for the use of the ladies and costs more to manufacture than the large one, but the ladies, as well as every one else seem to prefer the latter, probably for the reason that they could get more for their money. They would rather use the large, coarse manilla card than that made of fine linen for their especial benefit, because it has about twice as much surface for writing. Mr. Wanamaker estimated that $100,000,000 a year of this size would be required, but it has been running for nearly four years and the first edition has not yet been exhausted. Only about 2 per cent of the postal cards sold by the department are of the small size.

"I saw her pull it down."
"Ah, you would if you was lookin' that way. I've a seed her do 't a score o' times. Well, when the gout reached Key Pinsent's stomach, and he went off like the snuff of a candle at the age of forty-two she was left unpro vided, with a son of thirteen to main tain, or go pon the parish. She was a Monheimek, tho', from t'other side of the duck—a very proud family—and dem mean to dip the knee to no by all allowance, was handsome as heads off. An' all the while she was teachin' her boy and tellin' 'em what ever happened, to remember he was a gentleman, an' lovin' 'em with all the strength of a desolate woman.

"This Willie Pinsent was a comely boy, too; handsome as old Key, an' quick at his books. He'd a bold, masterful way, bein' proud as ever his mother was, an' well knowin' there wasn't his match in Tregarrick or headwork. Such a beautiful hand he wrote! When he was barely turn ed sixteen they gave 'em a place in Gregory's bank—Wilkins an' Gregory was in those aged times. He still lived home w' his mother, rentin' a room extra out of his carmin' and furnin' one of the bedrooms into a parlor. That's the very room you're lookin' at. And when any father in Tregarrick had a bone to pick with his sons he'd advise 'em to take example by young Pinsent, 'sb clever and good, too, there was no tellin' what he mightn't come to in time."

"Well-a-well, to cut it short, the lad was too clever. It came out, after, that he'd took to bettin his employer's money agen the rich men up at the Royal exchange. An' the up-shot was that one evenin' while he was drinkin' tea with his mother in his lovin', light-hearted way, in walks a brace o' constables an' says, 'Willie Pinsent, young chap, I arrest thee upon a charge o' counterfeitin' old Gregory's handwritin' which is a hang-in' matter!'"

"An' now, sir, comes the on'ons part o' the tale; for, if you'll believe me, this poor woman wouldn't listen to it—wouldn't hear a word o' What! my son Willie, she fumes, hot red as Lucifer. 'My son Willie a forger; my boy that I have nussed an' reared all a mistake."

"Ay, an' she would have it no other.
While her son was havin' his trial in the hall, she walked the streets with her head high, scornin' the folk as dared to look at her. But her greatest freak was seen in the Assizes came. Sir, she she hadn't even go to the trial. She dashed across the roadway. The judges had driven by her window,

Such mighty portly manners, too. Oh very spacious. I assure 'ee' Summe can see the old Trojan now, with his white weskit bulgin' out across his doorway like a shopfront hung wi jewels. Gout killed 'em. I went to his buryin', such a stretch of exper ence does a young man get by the time he reaches my age. God bless your heart alive, I can mind w they were hung for forger?"

"Who were hung?"
"People," he answered, vaguely
"and young Willie Pinsent."
"This woman's son?"
"Aye, her son—her ewe-lamb of a child. 'Tis very seldom brought up

"YOUNG CHAP, I ARREST THEE." again her now, poor soul! She's so very old that folks forgets about it.
Do 'ee see her curtain yonder, over the tape?"
"I saw her pull it down."
"Ah, you would if you was lookin'
that way. I've a seed her do 't a score
o' times. Well, when the gout reached Key Pinsent's stomach, and he went
off like the snuff of a candle at the age of forty-two she was left unpro
vided, with a son of thirteen to main tain, or go pon the parish. She was a Monheimek, tho', from t'other side
of the duck—a very proud family—
and dem mean to dip the knee to no body, and all t'at 'less because she d sounded her el to start with, by wedding a tailor. But Key Pinsent, by all allowance, was handsome as a waxen, and red infame up to the point that he 'ad shak'speare for the mere picture of it.
"We sold up the stock in trade and hired a couple of rooms—the self-same rooms you see—and then she sto less 'n a mouse an' took to needlework, plain an' fancy, for a lot o' the gentry's wives round the neighborhood befriended her, though they had to bealy an' hide that they meant it for a favor, or she'd ha' snapped their heads off. An' all the while she was

gentleman, an' lovin' 'em with all the strength of a desolate woman.

Railroad Notes.
J. W. Halsey, of Batavia, N. Y., conductor on N. Y. C. Railway, and one of the best known men on the road, says of Parke's Tea: For ten years I have suffered from constipation. Tried everything and found nothing of lasting virtue.
Hearing so many talking of Parke's Tea, I tried it, without much hope. The first dose moved my bowels easily and now I am cured. It works like magic. Sold
